PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We missed you at the May meeting! Everyone must have been extremely busy this month. We did have a quorum, but the extras weren't there. Here's hoping you will be able to join us at the next meeting which is on Tuesday June 2nd.

Things are progressing nicely for the shows. By the time you receive this, the premium will be at MB-F for the first draft. The number of Specialty Clubs joining us has grown-even since the last meeting! On Friday, September 25th, we will have specialty shows for Papillons, German Shorthaired Pointers, Rottweilers and Belgian Tervuren. We have weekend supported entries for Papillons, German Shorthaired Pointers, Rottweilers, Belgian Tervuren, Bulldogs and Belgian Sheepdogs. If your club is interested in holding a specialty on Friday or a supported entry one for both days of the weekend, we'd love to have you join us.

Our Match will be on Saturday, July 11th. Let's start spreading the word and see if we can get another nice entry. Cindy Craig is the Chairman, you can contact her at romira@sbcglobal.net for additional information.

Is there anybody out there interested in offering conformation classes this summer. The classes are needed to go towards our AKC Compliancy requirements. Maybe six weeks or more. If you are willing to take this on, please contact any board member. It could be done by a couple of people, it doesn't have to be just one person.

Have a great rest of the Spring, it's almost over! Summer is just around the corner

Bobby (A Phalene Papillon) is one of hers Champion Males took Breed two days and was pulled in the group, Uri (Papillon) her other champion male took breed both Sunday and Monday. Continuing in keeping in the family. And her faithful bitch Lollipop took Best Opposite all 4 days this is all at the Mission Circuit.

Board Member Cindy Craig: Saturday was an early start. Our goal was to be in Placerville by 8:00 am as we were going to watch our Rhodesian Ridgeback girl, Miss Millie. When we arrived the show grounds were bustling with almost 800 dogs. It was good to see a strong entry from Northern Nevada, with several BKC members and people and dogs from Fallon, Minden, Gardnerville, Reno, Sparks, Carson City, Dayton and Yerington. We were well represented by more than twenty different breeds!

It was the first time in several years that I had been to a dog show without my dog! However, it was great fun to meet up with people we hadn't seen for some time and to catch up on all the "dog news". As usual, we met interesting people and dogs, made new friends, enjoyed time with old ones and generally had a great day. Our Millie did well, taking WB all three days and BOW on Saturday and Monday. It looked like BKC members' dogs were strong contenders across the board with the Kinneys doing well in Smooth Fox Terriers and Spinonis ! We also made it a point to invite everyone we knew, and some we didn't, come to our BKC show in September.

Members who are renewing membership: Christina Sage, at the Placerville shows her home bred Border Collie dog naughty dog is now Ch. Luna's the Good and the Bad. Finished that weekend by going, winners dog, best of winners and best opposite all 3 days. Christina also let me know that Ann Kinneys Ch. Bitch, Sophia, took Breed all three days

Meeting was adjourned at 7:17pm

Respectfully submitted
Recording Secretary, Judy Davis

Some Garden-Variety Plants Can Send Your Dog to the Vet

PUPPY VULNERABILITY: A FEW THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT YOUR NEW DOG

Read more AKC.org

It's amazing how few people are aware that some household and garden plants can be poisonous to dogs: 93 percent of Americans can't identify exactly what plants they have in their home! Limit your dog's potential for contact with houseplants and discourage any nibbling.

As a conscientious owner, you should learn what plants can harm your dog. Here are a few of the common threats:

- Lily of the valley has a cardiac glycoside that can act like digitalis on the heart, same for foxglove and oleander.
- Castor beans contain ricins—a toxin that causes respiratory distress and pulmonary edema.
- Sago palms can cause liver damage.
- The Christmas mistletoe is widely reported to be poisonous, but its toxicity is overrated. Vomiting and diarrhea may result when eaten, but usually the effects are short-lived.
- When dogs ingest the shiny, spiny leaves and red berries of the holly plant, the result is usually no more than mild to moderate gastrointestinal upset, and the dog can be managed symptomatically. The major effect of holly is gastrointestinal irritation.
- Poinsettia is probably the best-known Christmas plant next to mistletoe. Dogs who eat poinsettia may show irritation of the mucous membranes, hypersalivation, and vomiting. These symptoms rarely require medical intervention.
- Another Christmas plant, kalanchoe (flaming katy), contains molecules related to the cardiotoxic compounds of poisonous toads that can poison the hearts of animals. Dogs are particularly sensitive to the cardiotoxic effects of kalanchoe. No deaths have been reported, but dogs show vomiting, diarrhea, anorexia, and depression after ingestion of this plant. Animals who have consumed kalanchoe must see a veterinarian and may require medical intervention and support until the signs of poisoning subside.
- Tobacco, of course, contains nicotine, which can poison dogs. Ingestion of as little as one cigarette can produce toxic signs in dogs.
- The toxicity of raisins and grapes is well documented in dogs.

Probably the most common effect plants can have on dogs is that of an allergen. The pollens of many plants and the plants themselves can irritate hypersensitive animals. Allergies may be seasonal and only show when the plants are in bloom and pollen is present.

Questions about toxic plants or any episodes of plant ingestion should be handled by your veterinarian.
